Justification for Dropping French Concentrations:

When the Department of French Studies established these concentrations (French and Francophone Cultural Studies, French and Francophone Political Studies, International Business, International Studies, Literary Studies), it was designed in an effort to attract and increase French majors. This effort, has, in fact, resulted in very few students pursuing a French degree with a concentration in one of these areas. Recognizing this, in our most recent program review, it was recommended that we reduce our number of concentrations. At our most recent faculty meeting, this was discussed, and it was decided that the only concentration that attracts students and has had consistent enrollments, is French with a Secondary Education Concentration. The Department has been working, recently, to seek increasing majors through encouraging students to pursue double majors and dual degrees, and we consider this strategy the most optimistic. Hence, at the last Departmental faculty meeting the department voted unanimously to drop all concentrations with the exception of French with Secondary Education and to redouble our efforts to recruit double major and dual degree students.

Justification

We are deleting hours from the old Arts and Sciences requirements from the French curriculum. The A&S requirements are no longer consistent with the current general requirements in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences. Deleting these requirements brings the French curriculum in line with the other majors in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences general requirements for the humanities are that students need 9 hours of General Education Humanities outside of their four semester language requirements. French 2155 may be included in these 9hr requirements. An additional 6 hours of General Education Humanities will be added to the curriculum.
GENERAL EDUCATION REQUIREMENTS

When a department adds a new curriculum or makes changes in an existing one, a Form D Addendum must also be submitted. This form is simply a list of those courses in the curriculum that satisfy the General Education requirement. Include course rubric, number, and credit hours when curricula differ from the default values.

Indicate the curriculum semester for all General Education courses.

Subject: French-Secondary Education proposed concentration changes
Hi Paula-

Please see attached for a draft of some concentration changes to the French-Secondary Education program that are under review. The changes entail removing some old Arts & Sciences college requirements that are no longer in place and making this concentration consistent with the other three secondary education concentrations in our college. As you will see, the actual concentration content is not being altered. Would you have any objections to the proposed changes? Please let me know if you would like to discuss these proposed changes.

Thanks very much for your consideration of this request, Becky

ADMISSION to the B.A. in ECONOMICS curriculum with a concentration in EMPIRICAL ECONOMIC ANALYSIS requires that a student be admissible to the College of Humanities & Social Sciences: earned at least 24 semester hours, have a cumulative and LSU GPA of at least 2.0, completed ENGL 1001 with a "C" or better, and completed three hours of general education analytical reasoning coursework.

BASIC SCHOLASTIC EXPECTATIONS
* Maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative and LSU GPA
* Maintain a minimum 2.0 GPA in the major field
* At least 30 of the hours required for this degree must be taken at the 3000-4999 level. See the LSU General Catalog for information on University, College, major, and minor residency requirements.

Students majoring in economics in the College of Humanities and Social Sciences are required to take Economics 2001, 2010, 2035, 4720, and 4710. Other economics courses must be chosen with the advice and approval of the Humanities and Social Sciences advisor in the Department of Economics. If graduate study in economics is anticipated, it is strongly recommended that the calculus sequence consisting of MATH 1550, 1552, and 2065 be taken.

NOTE: This document is offered as an aid for planning a course of study. The LSU General Catalog contains the official requirements for graduation.

FMA 3502: Special Topics in Italian Cinema
In-depth study of various aspects of Italian cinema from different periods. Screening and analysis of representative films.

JUSTIFICATION:
FMA 3502, Special Topics in Italian Cinema, will provide students with a permanent course in Italian Cinema and augment the international components that are a part of the Program’s Mission Statement. The course will be cross-listed with the Italian Program, Dept. of Foreign Languages.

The Italian program and Film and Media Arts have already piloted courses in Italian cinema in their Special Topics courses. The classes regularly fill, demonstrating ongoing and growing interest among students in expanding their understanding of film and video as an international art and industry. Creating and cross-listing a permanent course will provide additional opportunities for the regular teaching of this course and greater opportunities for students to enroll in them. Additionally, it will augment the history and theory component required of students in HSS’s growing FMA Program.
FMA 3503: Asian Cinema
In-depth study of various aspects of Asian cinemas, including Japanese, Korean, Indian, and other Asian Cinemas. Screening and analysis of representative films.

JUSTIFICATION:
FMA 3503, Asian Cinema, will provide students with a permanent course in Asian Cinema. Thus building on the international foundations that are a part of the Program’s Mission Statement. In particular, this course will emphasize cinemas which are currently underrepresented in the LSU curriculum.

The Program in Film and Media Arts has piloted courses in Asian Cinema, among them Special Topics courses on “Bollywood” and “Japanese Cinema.” These courses consistently fill, demonstrating ongoing and growing interest among students in expanding their understanding of film and video as an international art and industry. Creating a permanent course will provide additional opportunities for the regular teaching of this course and greater opportunities for students wishing to take courses in Asian Cinema. Additionally, it will augment the history and theory component required of students in HSS’s growing FMA Program.

Hi Paolo-

Would you have any objections to the inclusion of ITAL 3502 in the Film and Media Arts concentration and minor? The course would not be required, but would be an option for partial fulfillment of students’ FMA history elective requirement.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Description and Justification of Changes

The International Studies Program is requesting three sets of changes to our courses and curricula. The first of these is a change to the language requirement made at the request of the French Studies department. The second is a change in the Europe concentration at the request of Architecture, and the third is a change in the prerequisites of the gateway course which was to have been made when the curriculum was reformed in 2010.

Changes Requested by French

The International Studies program requires six semesters of study of a foreign language. For students completing their requirements in French, the current requirement specifies the first five courses, and allows students to select the sixth course. The requirement now reads:

“FREN 1001, FREN 1002, FREN 2101, FREN 2102, FREN 2155, and FREN 3058 or FREN 3060 or FREN 3071 or FREN 3072 or FREN 3080 or FREN 4003 or FREN 4031 or FREN 4040 or FREN 4050 or FREN 4051 or FREN 4070 or FREN 4080 or FREN 4090 or FREN 4100.”

In 2012 French Studies decided to make FREN 3060 a prerequisite for all higher level French courses. As a result, all students must take FREN 3060 after taking FREN 2155. Because students cannot select their sixth semester, but must take FREN 3060, the International Studies Foreign Language requirement will be changed to:

“FREN 1001, FREN 1002, FREN 2101, FREN 2102, FREN 2155, and FREN 3060”

French Studies has assured our program that there is sufficient space available in FREN 3060 to accommodate all of the International Studies majors who would need to take the course. Attached is a FORM D to make the appropriate change to the foreign language requirement. No substantive changes are made to the 8 semester critical paths for the degree.
Changes Requested by Architecture

Architecture has decided to drop their 3000 level course in history of architecture (ARCH 3006), and replace that course with a 2000 level course on the history of architecture (ARCH 2008). International Studies has ARCH 3006 listed as an option in the Europe concentration under the International Studies major and the International Studies minor. We are requesting a change in the Europe concentration and the International Studies minor to replace ARCH 3006 with ARCH 2008.

Changes to prerequisites of INTL 3001

In 2005 the International Studies program made a set of four required core courses prerequisites for the gateway course for the major, and moved the gateway course (INTL 3001) to the junior year. In 2010 a fifth course (ECON 2030) was added to the set of core courses, and students were permitted to take either POLI 2057 or POLI 2053 as their Political Science core course. At the time, the program intended to change the prerequisites for INTL 3001 to reflect these changes in the core curriculum, but that paperwork was not filed in 2010. This proposal to change the prerequisites of INTL 3001 will add ECON 2030 as a prerequisite (as intended in 2010) and will allow students to take either POLI 2057 or POLI 2053. This change does not affect either the Economics or Political Science departments, since these courses are already included in the requirements for the International Studies curriculum. The only change being made is in the sequencing of courses within International Studies.

Subject: ARCH 3006

Leonard:
As discussed in the fall, Architecture has dropped ARCH 3006/History II and replaced it with ARCH 2008. Architecture is now in the process of getting this new course approved by Gen Ed. It is Architecture's intention to get this approved under the Humanities and not the Arts.

Even though Architecture will no longer offer 3006, the drop is "conditional" until all units that list this course submit curriculum change forms to remove/replace it in their curricula. Anna Castrillo in the Registrar's office has been nice enough to provide the necessary paper work to get this started (see attached). Please review and let me know if you have any questions. Jim Sullivan (jsullivan@lsu.edu / 84262) in architecture is also available to answer questions as he is heading up the effort to get the new courses approved as Gen Ed Humanities.
